MAXRECALL, TO DEMONSTRATE DOCUMENT MANAGEMENT SOFTWARE AT INFOR USER CONFERENCE

Atlanta, GA, August 30, 2007 — MaxRecall Technologies, www.maxrecall.com, a leading developer of document imaging and management software, today announced that they are a bronze sponsor, of Infor's annual user conference, Inforum 2007 and a featured presenter. Inforum 2007 is being held September 9-12, at Las Vegas' Sands Expo and Convention Center. The company will also be represented in the Solutions Expo at booth #408.

“We are excited about the opportunity to see and thank our existing customers and channel partners while building relationships with new companies,” said Lori Allaman Hanken, Vice President of Sales and Business Development, MaxRecall. “Inforum brings companies from all over the world and offers them an opportunity to learn more about their software, meet Infor and MaxRecall executives, and network with other Infor users. There are numerous educational opportunities for attendees.”

“MaxRecall has been a valued Infor partner for many years providing document management solutions.” said Scott Williams, senior director of global alliance and partner management, Infor. “Solutions like MaxRecall provide our customers with great tools to aid in continued success, growth and cost savings.”

“We will be showing companies how they can save money and time by implementing a full-featured Document Management solution.” said Dave Jones, President, MaxRecall. “Our total cost of ownership is very attractive for organizations concerned with cost savings, our average payback is 6 months.

For more information on MaxRecall Document Management Software visit them in the Solutions Expo at booth #408, or attend one of their presentations. See www.inforum2007.com for registration information and schedules.
